

ELS Promotes Craig Teague to Vice President, Production Rentals

Los Angeles, CA – February 5, 2009 – Entertainment Lighting Services, Inc. (ELS), a leading supplier of production lighting and staging equipment, today announced the promotion of Craig Teague to Vice President, Production Rentals.

As Vice President, Production Rentals, Craig will continue to handle some of ELS' largest exhibit clients and corporate shows. His responsibilities include designing and scoping projects, coordinating technical drawings, providing detailed bids, setting creative expectations, managing budgets, and providing value added services.

"I'm thrilled to be taking on this new role," said Teague. "It is always an exciting challenge to provide our clients with new and creative lighting solutions. ELS attracts the best and brightest in the lighting industry, and I am looking forward to mentoring our growing staff. "

Craig began his tenure with ELS 15 years ago. He started with the company in December 1994 when he was first hired as a shop technician. In 1995, Craig was promoted to Rental Associate, and was then named Assistant Rental Manager four years later. In 2000, Craig was promoted to Senior Account Manager and was given the task to grow and expand ELS' exhibit and corporate markets.

"Craig's dedication to excellence, along with his extensive experience in both technical and theatrical lighting allows him to truly partner with his clients," said Andy Pepper, Senior Vice President at ELS. "Craig has been a valued member of the ELS family for years, and we welcome his continued hard work as Vice President, Production Rentals."

Craig attended the Theater program at San Francisco State University. He and his wife Kathleen have been married for 18 years and have 3 children - Dillan Emily, 16; Ethan James, 14; and Chloe Evelyn, 8.
